U City Public Art Series Opening, Apr. 7

Stop by the 2024 University City Public Art series opening reception and artists talk led by Washington University Associate Professor Arny Nadler, and features three Sam Fox BFA candidates. In collaboration with the Municipal Commission on Arts and Letters, the students each proposed and installed a temporary public sculpture for a University City public park. The works will be installed from early April through late summer. The University City Public Art Series is a partnership between the City of University City and the Washington University in St. Louis's Sam Fox School of Design & Visual Arts.
