THE VOICE OF UNIVERSITY CITY

SPRING 2026

Construction Projects Nearing Completion

ANNEX AND TRINITY BUILDINGS

With renovations to the historic Annex and Trinity Buildings now complete, City staff will begin transitioning into their newly renovated workspaces. The removal of the Police Department's temporary mobile units, which have been in place for approximately ten years, is scheduled to begin this spring and will allow Phase II of the project to move forward. Phase II will include completion of the north parking lot and associated site work, the addition of accessible routes and pedestrian sidewalks, and comprehensive landscaping throughout the City Hall campus. A ribbon-cutting ceremony for the new facilities is planned for this spring. Additional details will be shared at www.ucity.org.

TARGET STORES

Construction continues on schedule on the north side of Olive Boulevard, adjacent to Costco. Build-out of the 148,000-square-foot store, the largest Target location in the region, is progressing steadily, with an anticipated opening in late spring/early summer 2026.

The new store reflects Target's latest design approach, incorporating dedicated space for online order pickup and "last mile" fulfillment directly from the store. Unlike older locations that retrofitted parking lots to accommodate pickup demand, this site is purpose-built to support these services from day one, improving customer convenience and traffic flow.

DIERBERGS MARKET

Construction continues to move forward on the new Dierbergs Market at Olive, with visible progress on both the building exterior and interior build-out. Work is also underway for site improvements, including parking areas and drive lanes, to prepare the property for future customer access.

In addition, construction continues on two multi-tenant buildings along Olive Boulevard, which will support future retail and service opportunities in the area. At the time of this publication, the project remains on track for the spring 2026 opening. Dierbergs appreciates the community's continued patience and is currently recruiting employees for the new University City location. Interested applicants can learn more about available roles at careers.dierbergs.com.

BROOKE A. SHARP, ESQ.

University City Names Brooke Sharp as Interim City Manager

Following the February 6 retirement of longtime City Manager Gregory Rose, University City has turned to a familiar and trusted leader, Brooke A. Sharp, Esq., to serve as Interim City Manager.

Sharp has served University City as Deputy City Manager since February 2022 and has been part of the City's leadership team since joining as Assistant City Manager in May 2021. During her tenure, she has played a key role in overseeing day-to-day operations, advancing strategic priorities, and supporting major infrastructure, development, and community-focused initiatives.

"Brooke has earned the trust and confidence of the Council through her professionalism, integrity, and deep understanding of University City's operations and community priorities," said Mayor Terry Crow. "Her leadership will ensure continuity and stability as we begin the process of identifying our next City Manager."

Sharp brings a strong blend of legal and municipal management experience to the role. She holds a Juris Doctor from Saint Louis University School of Law, a Master's degree in Public Affairs from the University of Missouri-Columbia, and a Bachelor of Science in Psychology from Lindenwood University. Her professional affiliations include the Missouri Bar Association, the International City/County Management Association, and the National Forum for Black Public Administrators. Earlier in her career, she served as City Manager for the City of East St. Louis and City Clerk for the City of Dellwood.

While Sharp serves as Interim City Manager, the City will conduct a national search for a permanent City Manager with the assistance of MGT Consulting Group, a management and advisory firm with extensive experience in executive searches for municipalities and other public-sector organizations.

Additional details about the search process, including opportunities for community engagement, will be shared in the coming weeks. Residents are encouraged to visit www.ucitymo.org for updates and information.

State of the City Program Thurs., Mar. 5 Highlighting Momentum and What's Next

University City Mayor Terry Crow and Interim City Manager Brooke Sharp will reflect on a year of visible progress and outline priorities for the year ahead at the 15th annual State of the City program, hosted by the Historical Society of University City.

The program will take place at 7 p.m. on Thurs., Mar. 5, in the Council Chamber on the fifth floor of City Hall, 6801 Delmar Blvd. The event is free and open to the public.

Held each March, the State of the City program has become a community tradition. Eleanor Mullin, president of the Historical Society of University City, noted that the timing coincides with the birthday of the city's founder and first mayor, Edward Gardner Lewis, born March 4, 1869. "The program offers a meaningful way to honor University City's past while discussing how today's decisions are shaping its future," Mullin said.

With construction nearing completion on the new Police Department headquarters and Municipal Court facility, as well as the new Target and Dierbergs stores, all expected to open in the coming months, Mayor Crow will highlight the long-term impact of these investments and their tax-generating potential.

Interim City Manager Sharp will expand on operational improvements, infrastructure investments, and near-term priorities. She will also discuss plans for 2026, including sustaining development and strengthening core City services. "The focus ahead is on building our momentum while keeping residents and service delivery at the center of every decision," Sharp said.

For additional information, contact ucityhistory@hotmail.com or Eleanor Mullin at 314.862.2972.

Dear Neighbors

My second term as a Third Ward Councilmember expires in 2026 and I have made the difficult decision not to seek re-election. While it has been an honor to serve, I believe it is time for me to move on and allow others to continue the work. I am proud of my time on the Council and while we certainly did not accomplish everything I had hoped, in many ways we accomplished more than I could have dreamed.

Of course, the Market at Olive stands as a significant achievement and a testament to the work of many people, both Councilmembers, residents and City staff over several years. The Third Ward Revitalization Plan is another significant achievement, empowering residents to decide their own priorities for redevelopment through an inclusive and collaborative process.

I would be remiss if I did not acknowledge those who have supported me and with whom I have had the privilege of working over the past eight years. Let me begin by thanking my colleagues on the Council, both past and present. In a Council form of government nothing can be advanced without the approval of the majority; moving forward takes collective action. I have had the honor of serving with Council members who are focused and passionate about service to our community.

To the University City staff, I offer my deepest appreciation. Everything the Council has accomplished has been possible through your hard work and dedication.

To residents of the Third Ward, thank you for trusting me to serve as one of your Councilmembers.

I want to thank my wife, Rasheedah, for being such a wonderful partner and allowing me the space to serve my Ward and community as best as I could.

Remember, this is not good-bye but simply see you later...likely at Target. Thank you, University City!

U City in Bloom 34th Annual Spring Plant Sale

After a long winter, spring offers a natural mood booster. Longer days, fresh air, and time spent gardening are proven to improve mental and physical health. Even soil itself plays a role because beneficial bacteria found in healthy soil have been shown to reduce inflammation and support the immune system.

U City in Bloom invites the community to enjoy this free "medicine" at its 34th Annual Spring Plant Sale, taking place Friday through Sunday, April 24 to 26, at the Heman Park Community Center, 975 Pennsylvania Ave.

- Events begin with the Preview Party on Fri., April 24, from 5 to 7 p.m., offering first choice of hardy perennials, colorful annuals, trees, shrubs, herbs, and vegetables, along with wine, cheese, and appetizers. Tickets are $25 and may be reserved in advance at ucityinbloom.org or purchased at the door.
- The Plant Sale is free and opens to the public on Sat., April 25, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Sun., April 26, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Knowledgeable gardeners will be on hand to help shoppers select plants suited to sun, shade, wet, or dry conditions. Many offerings are native species, supporting U City in Bloom's commitment to local wildlife and pollinators.

For those who want to get involved, beginning about a month before the sale, volunteers are welcome to help divide and pot perennials to prepare them for sale. If you have plants to donate or wish to volunteer to help with this work, contact Linda Fried at lindafriedster@gmail.com.

Support U City in Bloom and take home an armful of young plants, dig into spring, and feel better doing it. Proceeds support the planning, planting, and maintenance of U City in Bloom's community gardens and planters throughout the City.

University City Ward Map: Representation in Our Community

University City is divided into three wards, each represented by elected City Councilmembers who serve residents within clearly defined geographic boundaries. The official Ward Map provides a visual guide to these boundaries and helps residents understand how local representation is organized.

The map helps ensure fair representation, guide election administration, and enable residents to know which councilmembers represent their neighborhood. They are also used for planning, public safety coordination, and community engagement.

As a public record, the University City Ward Map is available for residents to view and share at www.icitymo.org. Residents are encouraged to review the map to confirm their ward and stay engaged with City issues that affect their area. Questions about ward boundaries or representation may be directed to City Hall 314.862.6767 or the City Clerk at 314.505.8605.

Register to Receive Emergency CodeRED Alerts

Now entering its third year, University City's CodeRED emergency notification system has proven invaluable to both residents and public safety officials. This high-speed, web-based mass notification system allows University City Public Safety to quickly send text messages and telephone alerts citywide or to specific, targeted areas when an emergency requires immediate action.

Examples include automated weather alerts that can be issued within moments of a bulletin from the National Weather Service for severe thunderstorms, flash floods, tornadoes, and winter storms. Available since 1998, CodeRED is used by more than 3,000 state and local government agencies across the United States and Canada.

In addition to severe weather notifications, CodeRED may be used to share critical alerts related to drinking water contamination, utility outages, evacuation notices and routes, street closures, missing persons, fires or floods, bomb threats, chemical spills, gas leaks, and other public safety emergencies.

Text UCITY to 99411 to enroll in University City's CodeRED program today.

Grill and Fire Pit Safety

As warm weather arrives and grills come back out, the University City Fire Department reminds residents to put safety first this spring. A few simple precautions can help prevent fires, injuries, and property damage, ensuring a safe, fire-free season for everyone.

Distance: Always keep grills and fire pits at least 10 feet away from homes, decks, and other structures.

Pre-Use Inspections: Check grills and fire pits for rust, worn parts, excessive grease buildup, and secure connections, especially for gas appliances.

Fuel: Use only approved fire starters. Never use gasoline or other flammable liquids to start a fire.

Weather Safety: Avoid grilling or using fire pits during windy or extremely dry conditions and never burn during a burn ban.

Equipment: Keep water source nearby, such as a garden hose or fire extinguisher, readily available.

Disposal: Allow ashes and hot charcoal to cool completely before discarding. Never place hot or warm remnants in plastic containers.

Supervision: Never leave grills or fires unattended. When children are present, remind them to keep a safe distance from all fire hazards.

New Beginnings in a New Police Headquarters Facility

Chief Larry Hampton, Jr.

In the first quarter of 2026, the University City Police Department (UCPD) will transition to a new, modern public safety headquarters designed to support 21st-century policing strategies. While the original University City police building dates to 1903, the department moved in 1938 to converted space at 6801 Delmar, which was later declared functionally obsolete. For the past 10 years, the UCPD has operated from temporary trailers behind City Hall.

The new state-of-the-art police headquarters represents a major step forward in infrastructure, technology, and community-focused policing. The new facility integrates advanced technology, innovative methodologies, and historical preservation, as well as supports best practices to strengthen both enforcement and community policing. It includes a strategy room, training room, computer lab, modern fitness space, dispatching hub, intelligence center, and other critical resources needed to stay ahead of evolving criminal activity.

As crime changes, public safety also must continue to evolve. Preparation is essential to opportunity in modern law enforcement. What law enforcement does daily demonstrates their culture, and in University City our officers consistently train, plan, and adapt policies that support our community partners and stakeholders. Change is embraced through thoughtful preparation and continuous improvement.

Our guiding framework—Decision, Direction, Destiny—reflects an intentional approach to innovation, collaboration, and planning for large community events. UCPD leaders recognize that the perception of crime can sometimes loom larger than crime itself. To address this, our weekly preparation meetings review crime trends, statistics, and effective strategies used locally and regionally.

Community engagement remains a priority for the UCPD. Programs such as our Community Camera program provide free doorbell cameras to residents in areas experiencing recent crime trends. Our Security Analysis program offers free property assessments for residents and business owners, focusing on best practices in security and crime prevention through environmental design. While these initiatives are not new, they are being relaunched to align with recent residential and commercial growth and new community partnerships.

The UCPD also conducts dedicated business patrols in the Delmar Loop and Market at Olive districts, working closely with business owners and private security teams. Many officers bring prior experience in security or loss prevention, strengthening these collaborations. Through regional crime prevention partnerships, the UCPD continues to invest in advanced technology, training, equipment, and personnel, ensuring resilient, responsive and forward-looking public safety throughout University City.

Spring 2026 School Board Election

The School District of University City Board of Education has three candidates for three seats in the April 7, 2025, election: Anelise Curtis, Kay E. Gage, and Karen Bernstein (in order of filing).

According to The School District of University City's Policy BBB-1: School Board Elections, there will not be a School Board Election in April 2026 since the number of candidates who have filed is equal to the number of positions for each office to be filled by the election.

Candidate statements will be printed in the March 2026 PRIDE newspaper and archived to www.ucityschools.org/PRIDE.

School-Based Health Center Coming to University City High School

The School District of University City is partnering with Washington University, Family Care Health Centers, and the School-Based Health Alliance of Missouri to open a School-Based Health Center at University City High School. The center will provide on-site physical and mental health services, making care accessible and convenient for students.

This initiative aligns with the Schools as Centers of Health recommendation from the 2015 Ferguson Commission Report. Superintendent Sharonica L. Hardin-Bartley, PhD, PHR, a member of the Commission's Youth at the Center work group, has long advocated for expanding health services for young people. "For nearly a decade, it has been our vision to bring high-quality care directly to our students," Hardin-Bartley said.

School-based health centers remove barriers to care, offering preventive services, immediate attention for physical or mental health concerns, and support for keeping students in school. Families benefit from convenient care that does not require missing work, while teachers and administrators can focus on learning.

This collaborative effort underscores the District's commitment to student well-being and academic success. Updates on services, timelines, and community engagement opportunities will be shared as the project progresses.
